

Please let the consumer decide where he gets it's current traffic & weather information. I want to listen to the most current and update information and whoever provides that information is the who I will listen to. Let anyone and everyone compete that is approved by FCC & whoever provides the best product wins. It's called providing what the market wants. This is NOT a goverment issue it's a consumer issue.